PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—The most extensive arrangements are being made by the Irish residents for the reception of guests on Thanksgiving Day. It is estimated that 15,000 persons will participate in the procession. Delegates are expected from all parts of the country and Europe. The convention will meet at the Assembly buildings, and delegations from all Irish societies will be admitted, the purpose being to fully inform the Irish people as to the prospects of the cause of Ireland's freedom.

The Internal Revenue receipts, it is anticipated, will increase toward the last of the mouth, but those from Customs will not be as heavy as last month.

Arrival from Tekhosonanues.

There is already a number of Senators and Representatives in the city, all of them Radicals. Their first duty, which is most punctiliously performed, is to call on Grant and congratulate him on the result of the election. His headquarters now is the best place to accretist the arrival of honorable gentlemen. Gov. Morrow is frequently spoken of for Secretary of the Treasury, and if a Western man should be selected, and his health would persilt, it is believed he would be tendered that position. The Governor was scriously indisposed last high, so much so as to exoite alarm, but he has quite recovered to-day.

[Special Dispatch to Louisville Courier Journal.]
NASHVILLE, Nov. 24.—Very grave matters are engaging the attention of the Tennessee Legislature, as may be judged by the character of some bills introduced to-day, and which passed their first reading. One bill is for the benefit of Mrs. Granville Lindslay and others, and provides, first, that said Mrs. Lindslay shall receive seventy-five dollars annually in consideration of having recently given birth to three children at one confinement; and, secondly, providing for a like ammity to all other Tennessee women who shall, in future, be equally prolific. In its present shape the bill does not discriminate in favor of loyal mothers, but it is well understood, before its final passage, a clause will be added percaptorily debarring robels from any participation in its benefits, and embracing colored matrons in its benefits, and embracing colored matrons in its beneficent provisions. The bill was introduced in good faith, and is likely to pass.

Another bill was passed, providing that no lawers except those who gain the cases they may be engaged in shall be entitled to receive any fees whatever. This is now on its third reading in the House, but it will be stoutly opposed in the Senate.

(Special Dispatch to Louisville Courier-Journal.)

RICHNOND, Nov. 24.—H. Rives Pollard was shot and killed here to-day, on account of, an article published by Pollard in the Southern Opinion reflecting upon Miss Mary Grant, the daughter of W. H. Grant, a wealthy tobacconst of this city.

About ten o'clock this morning, as Mr. Pol lard was approaching the office of the Opinion, a shot was fired from an upper window of a house opposite, and Mr. Pollard fell, pierced by eleven buckshot, one of which entered hisheart. He expired immediately. Mr. Grant, a brother of the young lady named, was found in the building from which the shot was fired, and was arrested and taken to prison, a double-barreled gun, with one barrel empty, being found in the room.

The Southern Opinion is a sensational paper of very questionable type, and Pollard's character is hardly so good as the character of his sper. He is a brother of E. A. Pollard, but has been even more violent and impractisable. His death is regretted by few, if any, of the paper. He is a two-ther of E. A. Polland, but has been even more violent and impracticable. His death is regretted by few, if any, of the citizens of Bichmond.

The following is the article that gave rise to the assault in which Pollard lost his life:

The Indian summer has passed evary, and with it has passed a fair and radiant daughter of one of our first citizens—a nabob of Clay street—a gandlenau who, suffice it to say, holds the very first position in the wealthy and hashlomable circles of the city. The daughter, the rebellant Helene of the family, is beautiful beyond description; but her beauty did not prevent her from falling desperately and inceitserably is love with a young gaulisman of sent-militaire connections, who, it appears, some months ago plighted his troth and Nobody suspected. The gay young man who has whisked away the angel is a Lothario named Horsee Ford, of Goochland county, which county ought to be proud of film, as it doubtless is. Horace is an orphan, just plunging into his teens, and has lost both of his parents by death. Much property accrued to Horsee in the shape of money, chattels, goods, &c., and, having converted the whole into "ready rhine," Horace sentured for a swim in the sea of gas life and love. He met Miss Mary Grant, talked delicious nonsense, won her heart, then, half inclined to carnestness, threw it away. sold under the foreclosure of a mortgage in favor of the boudholders of the first and second issue.

The original stock of this company has been virtually lost for a number of years, and the third mortgage bonds have been considered equally worthless. The road has been, by order of court, in the hands of trustees, in behalf of the bondholders, and the present rumor is that the whole concern is to be sold for the benefit of its creditors.

It is not probable that a satisficient sum can be realized to satisfy the first and second mortgage bonds, with accrued unpaid history of the benefit of the probable that a satisficient is the paper on which they are printed.

The history of this road from the beginning to the present time is one of a straggle with debt and with poverty, so that the equipment of it as a first-class railway, as is demanded by the people along the line, and others whose business brings them in contact with it, is simply an impossibility. The manner in which the business of the road has been conducted has often been freely and severely criticised, and its managers denounced as incapable for the trust.

It is a pleasant fact, however, to record that ever, and they followed on at a rapid pace to see what would be the result. The pig, on reaching Broadway, turned down toward Seventh street, and on reaching the corner of Seventh suddenly stopped, low-cred his head, threw forward his pars, and for a few seconds lost himself in a deep study. The sound of approaching feet quickly roused him though, and he bolted for the opposite side of the street.

Now, right ahead of piggs stood a little shoe-shop with a big glass window, and the shoe-maker and part of his family were there, even at that hour. As they sat chatting cosily there came suddenly a crash of glass,

As they sat chatting cosily there came suddenly a crash of glass, and in bounced the freightened animal, carrying terror as he came, scattering the inmates upsetting everything in his path, and finally bolting in behind the counter, where he stopped from sheer bewilderment. The worthy son of St. Crispin, running to the door, shouted at the top of his voice for the police, and Officers Pendergrast and C onnarton, with Futusms and Reits, quickly warrounded, the building. As soon as all fears, we will of the people who live on the route or who may pass over it.

The first bidder will be the Michigan Central: the second, the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette; the third, the Jeffersonville and Indianapolis, the fourth, the Ohioand Missishippi interest, and after these that class of capitalists who are always on band when a bargin is to be had.

The meterests of the Michigan Central in the line consist in the carrying trade eastward from New Albany as the point of contact with the Ohio river and the opening of a new and shorter line for St. Louis business and the invaluable coal of Indiana, by putting in the link of fifty miles from Crawfords ville via Rockville to Paris. Furthermore, the Michigan Central is using the franchies of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago charter from Buffalo to Chicago, or, rather, that portion of this distance which lies in the limits of the State of Indiana.

lemorial on the Subject to the Post-master General. master General:
The following petition has received the signatures of nearly all the citizens of Richmond, Madison county, and will be immedistately transmitted to the Postmaster Generalat Washington. It is a clear statement of the case, and speaks for itself. The grievance is one that affects Louisville as much if not eago, or, rainer, that portion is state of Indiana.

The immense trade which the Michigan Central could coftrol with this line in the manner indicated renders it probable that they will compete sharply for the purchase.

Clacimati & Lafayette Company.

It has been one of the mistakes of the old manageriset to tot ollow a fair and liberalar-rangement at Lafayette for the through business from Chicago to Chechmati.

Indeed, the Lafayette connection has always been the most carious and crotchety afair—very much on the dog-in-the-manger principle—for the L., N. A., & C. road never has made any connections at that point with their own line South, always compelling passengers from Louisville, New Albany, and other points along the line, to wait from three to the control of the cont more, than Richmond, and we hope the aucause the desired change to be made Grant's Sword. The Radical papers are generally agreed that the military prestige of General Grant will have a salutary effect upon the South II-they mean by this that the people of the South are to be coereed by the power of the sword actively employed, into a more submissive spirit, they are possibly correct in their surmise. Porce can do anything; and, since it has kept Ireland and Poland in a state of military subjection during many centuries, it is not unlikely that it may be made equally effective in this country. But is this, after all, so very salutary?

The idea of forcing the Southern people to submit to unconstitutional legislation—to unite them at the point of the bayonet with a class of semi-barbarous negroes is abominable to every one of a sound and virtuous mind. It is a species of despotism that is nameless, on account of its unqualified meanness. It is unstatesmanlike, unphilosophical and inhumane, even to the negroes themselves. There is so much absurdity on its very face that the wonder is how the people of the North can be deceived by it. While sacrincing ue white man to the negro, she may, for a time, maintain her rights. But if she per-sist, her own heart must become corrupt, her own conscience defiled, her own will and crimes inconsistent with her own liberty. Curses, like chickens, come home to roost. The wicked falls into the pit that he dug for his neighbor. The oppressor ends by ruin of himself. The ty-rant is caught in the net of his own de-vices. Once overlesp the sacred barriers of the Constitution, and it is difficult to get back. Once open the heart to the evil shely for the South. If the one falls, so must the other. To the grave wherein is buried the liberties of the South must so be borne the liberties of the North, for se-pulture. God has ordained that he who smites his brethren shall be brought low; that the lawless spirit shall sooner or later bring forth its own punishments.

The Radical party are fanatics. The spirit of fanaticism inspires them. This makes them dangerous even as men, but it renders them fearful instruments of ruin as ture of their dreamy doctrines and visionar, chemes, and the remorseless cruelty of the parit of their politics. But time will work at all things. Surely it cannot require much the North that they have offered en their black Deity. If he cannot be propitisted with the blood that has been shed would he be rendered merciful by the sughter of the nation? Let it be rememered that the idea of conquest and of pro ducing national unity by the sword belo uity and to despo restricts the sword to the sphere of main-ton. We would somewhat rather see Mo ton and Trumbull there than Butler and Wilson and Phillips and Greeley, but indeed we don't know that we have They Had Better Not.

The bondholders and other Radical leaders are insisting upon two measures in regard to the finances. They demand the commitment of the Government and the nation, first, to the payment of the 5-90 bonds in gold, a policy not required, as they themselves recognize, by any law; and, secondly an immediate return to species payments. If they think that they can cle payments. It they think that they can carp out these two measures or policies without conjuring up a storm that will sweep them and their party off the face of things, they are among the most arrant financial fools that live.

Inancial fools that live.

It is undoubtedly a fact that our people became, during the war, and have been becoming since, insensible, in a considerable degree, to the faults, errors, blunders and orimes of the Radical party in respect to the national finances. But let the terrible financial calamity come, that would inevitably follow, and most quickly follow, the carrying out of the financial programme of the Radicals, and the Radical party will disappear before the breath of the people as disappear before the breath of the people as the host of Sennacherib vanished before the breath of the Lord. The Radicals had drawn nearly her whole revenue from that oppressed island, whilst Great Britain, certainly a most grasping power, has not drawn from the Canadas enough to pay the expense of supporting them. But it is a grave question whether Cuba would gain anything by being transferred to the United States or not, or whether the transfer. The negro population of Cubs exceeds the white population four or five-fold, and, if Cuba shall be annexed to the United States, the negroes of the island will possess the supreme power. Have we any reason to think that they will use their mingo have used theirs? Have we any cause to think that Cuba will not be an absolutely It is stated that General Grant wil

I have no patience with those people who will be a pushed to them so live singly upon. They must be moral, forsooth! at the cost of reducing some unhappy girt to drudgery on the false pretense—fir it is false—of loving her.

Why can't they let it alone? as the great master of common sense said of a loss eventful contingency.

Baster of common semes and or sizes evential contingency.

I have met mog the single than the married; but here is a centing notion abroad that married; but here is a centing notion abroad that married; as one to be curste must be married, and the dector ought to be married. I don't know how far theory goes, or whether a lady's shoemaker should have a wife, but I'm sure fier coliffere ought.

I hope we shall soon hear the last of this tresome controversy; for if any man wishes positively to ascertain, from his personal experience, whether it is easte to marry on factorized that the state of the same of the controversy. It is the same of the married of the months. If this constitution stands the dietry—the seven onness of gruel and pluch of barley per fiftem—he may have his bans published the day he comes out, and certainly there will be nothing in this absorbent system to interfere with his happiness.

But it is a mistake to suppose that marriage is a necessity, except to a three volume novel. I am certain that a very large number of people aship. Mind, I am not enamored of Morzooniem or spiritual wifery, nor have I the slightest sympathy with Agapemones. What I desire to lusist on is, that our present day divillastion inculcates conjugalism too indiscriminately, and takes most unjustifiable means to support its position. One of these, and the least commendable of all, is to disparage those who are called old maids. I have seen many a timid rider in a hunting-field jeered into riding at a fence that cost him a "croppor," and I am convinced that many women are driven into marriage to each a honory of and occasion of because of the monter of XII. The vast vote polled against General Grant must convince his keen common sense that the power of the Conservatives is too great to be ignored, and that their aims are too holy to be overlooked. When it is remembered how the state of the conservative and the definited that the conservative shaded the conservative and the definited wing of the Democratic Convention managers, plunged the great Conservatives at 1883 are a living power, whose duty it is at once evident that the Conservatives at 1883 are a living power, whose duty it is to come to his sid in the labor of peace, as it will be their duty fearlessly to oppose all measures that may lead to disorder and discord. Such a body of men, then, cannot practically be silent, cold, indifferent, and, worst of all, factious.

We have now fully indicated the line of action which we shall pursue. And therefore it is that we are disposed to waste no efforts on abstractions. We have already declared for and shall insist on a repeal of the civil tenura bill. That is a practical thing. We regard that haw as an indignity to the President. We regard that have as not indignity to the President we regard that have as non-lightly to the president as finexpedient, since it is at war with Executive administration. We urge its repeal. This act especially affects the Presidential office. It is unlike, therefore, the reconstruction acts. It belongs to General Grant, when he shall be President defact, to assume the responsibility which pertains to submissish to, or resistance against, that law, if Congress shall force him to such extreme. For the rest, we shall hope, believe, encourage, walt, and anticipate the most patriotic results for our divided and noble nation. XIII.

It is no exaggeration to say "maligned." I would ask any one who has seen much of life—world, watching lite ways and studying its doings—I would ask him, has he ever met in any section of humanity greater kindness, gentleness and patience than among these same old malds? Where has he found more hearty, genals, generous natures? when sound views of life disfigured by fewer prejudiess? where more thorough charity in discussing the motives? where in one word, less of those words to characterize this class? It is no part of my task to call witnesses to what I say, but one I will cle, because she eminently represented all that I have so feebly attempted to picture; and if her genins might seem to out-shine the luster of her personal qualities, it is only to those who had not the happiness—and it was happiness—of her intimacy. I am talking of Miss Edgeworth, and it is well worth all the weight of the years it obliges to have met and known her.

[From the St. Louis Democrat, 220.]

A suit has been commenced in the Circuit Court, by James Murtauch against the city to recover $15,000 damages for alleged ill-treatment at the City Hospital.

The petition states that on the 20th of January last he was taken sick with brain or typhold fever, and that on the 20th of the aame month he was removed by order of the Board of Health to the City Hospital. It goes on to state that the plaintiff was creatly and that with the plaintiff was creatly and that write were tied to cither side of the bedstead, and his ankies were fastened to the foot of the same with cords and straps; that these wore into and tore away the skin and ileah, and that he still bears their marks. The petitioner alleges that while bound down he was cruelly and inhumanly treated; that his toes on both his feet were badly rozen, and that, after weeks and months of suffering, they were all amputated by the physician. The plaintiff states that all the toes of his left foot were so decayed and badly frozen that they could not be so we be the could not be so we be the could not be so we be that side physician notwithstanding this, unskillfully amputated all of them. The Grand Social Event of the Seaso Ceremony, Interesting Personalities, etc.

An event for which the upper stratum of society had been on the qui vive for weeks past was consummated at Christ church yesterday morning—the felicitious union of the Rev. Col. J. N. Gallaher and Major John Castleman with Misses Lottle and Alice, the only daughters of John Barbes, Eq., formerly Mayor and now one of the most successful such honored business men of Louiville. The bans had been extensively published, and we doubt if any similar engagement ever evoked so much interest at our community. It was everywhere a theme of unfeigned congratulation. This proceeded as much from the eminent personal and public worth of the suitors as from the high-born character, peerless beauty and rare culture of the sued and won.

THE TIANCES.

Rev. Col. Gallaher is perhaps more familiarly known here as the assistant minister to Rev. James Craik, rector of Christ's church In this sacred office, to which he was called only a few months ago, he has acquired a reputation for Christian virtue and ministerial shility, seal, and devotion equaled only by that militant fame which wreathed his brown in the dark hours of his beloved South. He enlisted in the Second Kentucky regiment, and as a private soldier endured the tolloome marches and sufferings and dangers of that gallant band, until his genius attracted the eagle-ope of his sagacious commander-in-chief, General S. B. Buckber. As more betting his caliber, the true, uncomplaining private was advanced to a captaincy on the General's staff. Here he displayed such high qualities as readered him indispensable to he executive power of the command in which fortune had cast him. Purely upon his merits, he was by regular gradations promoted to the full rank of Colonel, and finally assigned to the adjutant-generalcy of Buckner's army, then one of the most responsible pesigions in the whole military service. In this sphere he continued to act until the close of hostillities. All his comrades-in-arms and others who knew him as a soldier bear cheerful testimony as to the unsurpassed brilliancy and valor and uscfalness of his career. On appearance, Col. Gallaher is of the medium hight and size, with light hair and complexlitiman blend'in utter perfection.

Major Castleman was a brave and muchcsteemed officer under General John H. Mordigun, of cavalry fame, and shared all the triumphs and vicissitudes of that daring and immorjal leader. For some time he has been man of fine personal appearance, being tall, dark-eyed and dark-haired, with rosy complexion, and withal endowed with every winsome grace of mind and mien.

The slefer brides, Misses Lottle and Alice, hate ever been regarded as foremost in the higher order of society in Louisville, on account of their lovely personael, their refinement, their amiability, and above all, their strong mutual attachment. They are of nearly the same age, and have always been together in the noblest sisterly devotion. In size and appeanace they are almost twin-like. Both are very fair, tall and lithe in stature, and have dark eyes, with lashes a shade darker, fals suits of golden-brown hair, with all the kindred attributes of the besuiful and good of their act.

They were the cynosures of all eyes, and received more attention from the young gentlemen than usually falls to the lot of so-called belles, much less the real queens of the social realm, among whom they confessedly stood unrivaled in their majesty and influence.

The occasion will, no doubt, be a most pleasant and enjoyable one, and we hope to see the worthy ladies rewarded for their labors by a large attendance.

Death of Dr. John Sargent.

Many hearts in Louisville will be pained to read the announcement of the death of Dr. Jno. Sargest, which and event occurred at his residence at Felicity, Ciermont county, Ohio, a few days ago. Dr. Sargent was for many years a very efficient member of our City Council, and occupied a high social position among us. At the time of his death he was in the sixty-third year of his age.

An Actress Loses Her Trunk.

The proprietor of Brown's Hotel yesterday seized upon the trunk of Miss Adah Newton, a Metropolitan Varieties nightingale, to satisfy a board bill he claimed to have against her. Miss Newton, going before Justice Cloment and showing a receipt for the amount claimed to be due, received an order of delivery, which was served upon Brown by a constable, and the trunk was recovered.

The near relatives and friends of the parties remained in the places assigned them on the right and left of the altar in the auditorium, and the bridal personages were unattended during the service. This seemed to us a sensible variation of the old custom. The excellent rector of the church, Rev. Jas.

was served upon Brown by a constant, and the trink was recovered.

The Preston Street Cutting Affray.
Sergeant J. R. Hugett, of the 2d infantry, who siabbed Corporal James Green, in a fight at the corner of Preston and Walmut streets, a short time since, was brought before Judge Craig yesterday morning, and upon the testimony being heard, he was required to give a bond of 400 for his appearance before the Circuit Court to answer a charge of malicious stabling.

The Vote of the State.

The returns from all the counties of the State but three—Robertson, Rowan and Wolfe—have been received at the office of the Secretary of State. Seymour's majority is 55,858, and the three counties yet to come in will increase it to about 76,350—a proud majority, indeed, when we consider the discouraging circumstances under which it was given.

At all times the Episcopal form of uniting souls is waitly interesting, but we have never seen it interpreted with as much real solemnity as on this occasion. Major Castleman and Miss Aliee Barbee were first joined in the holy bonds, Col. Gallaher and Miss Lottle Barbee acting as bridesmaid and groomsman. The latter were then united by precisely the same ceremonial, and the other couple personated the "supports." As the last prayer fall word was spoken by the minister, the organ again pealed fosts in a strain of thankagiving meledy, and the joyous bridal throng moved away from the consecrated scene, all imbued with a sense of the divine agency in what they had witnessed, and the principals in the dual marriage, we make not the least doubt, feeling and vowing that

SUNDAY BAIL.

Dismissal of the Clement-Donne Rule by Judge Craig.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Joseph Clement and George W. Donne, Justices of the Peace, rule to show cause why they released M. Rosenbaum from jull on Sunday, November 15, was the first taken up in the City Court yesterday. The following is the response of Justices Clement and Donne to the rule issued by Judge Craig: was yesterday arranged ectore Jange chag, in the City Court, sid. Burnett, Esq., appearing as Commonwealth's Attorney and Major Allen appearing for the defendant.

The defense walved an examination, and the Commonwealth's Attorney said he trusted the court would require such a bond as would not only protect the witnesses in the case, but secure the presence of the defendant before the grand jury. The defendant, he alleged, had, on yesterday, after the occurrence which led to the arrest, procured a double-barreled shoton and visited the house of Arthur Rankin. The defense remarked that the shot gan had only been procured for a hunting expedition.

The witnesses were then recognized to go before the grand jury, and the defendant gave a bond of 800 to answer, and also to keep the peace.

The statement multiplied that, Ernyk Ranger and the statement multiplied that. by Judge Craig:
To the Honorable Judge of the City Court of Loudsville:

Judge Craig said that the respondents had no right to take a bond on the Sabbath which was returnable in the City Court. If the Common Pleas Court had decided that a bond mon Pleas Court had decided that a bond taken on Sunday was not good, the City Court had nothing to do with it. The merits of the rule were tryable whenever brought up, and a Justice's court was not an examining court for the City Court.

He then dismissed the rule, and the great bail case came to an inglorious ending.

A Busy Day with the Department. Yesterday was alively day with the noble firemen. The dread alarm vas sounded no less than three times during the twenty-four hours. The first, at 3 o'clock in the morning, was caused by a fire in a store on Marshall street, between Jackson and Hancock, occupied as a grocery by Adam House. The first men were promptly at the place, and, in attempting to force an entrance, found that the doors were heavily barred by barrels and boxes. An entrance was effected and the fire extinguished, but not before it had damaged the contents of the room to the extent of some seventy-five or a hundred dollars. The contents were insured for about $1,200. It seems that the whole populace is interected in the success of the festival; for handreds of ladies, married and single, but all youthful, representing every Evangelical degreas of mores, married and single, but all youthful, representing every Evangelical denomination, in the city, are earnostly endeavoring to make the occasion one that will always be remembered with delight by those who steend. During the festival very low prices will be charged for delight by those who attend. During the festival very low prices will be charged for meals and dainties. A bill of fare will be presented to each one as he takes his seat, and he will be enabled to select according to taste and learn the price of what he calls for. On Thenkagiving day a grand dinner will be given, when no admission fee will be charged, and when the very best dinner can be had at an expense not exceeding one dollar.

The tables have been arranged to much better advantage than they were at the former festival, giving more room for promenading, and making a much better display. Chris. Haupt's celebrated band will be there, and add the charm of music to the many other attractions that will be offered. We hope to meet everybody there to-night. body there to-night.

The Mendelssohn Club Last Night.

The Mendelssohn Club Last Night.
As we anticipated, the performance of the evening passed off to the crodit of this farfamed society.
A chorus from Haydn's Seasons opened the entertainment, and gave entire satisfaction to the select assembly present. The "Ave Maria" was a feature of the entertainment, as also the "Comfort ye my people." The chorusses from the Messlah were pretty well sung, but the plano accompaniments were missing. but the piano accompaniments were missing, and considerable of the musical effect lost, owing to tant. The closing chorus, "Glory to God," was excellent, all the voices sus-taining the different parts well-regardless of the orchestra.

A month from last evening will allow suffi-cient time for a rehearsal of the celebrated "Elijah," which will be given with full orches-

Stray Bridal Parties.

In addition to the brilliant weddings which took place in the city yesterday, we had quite an influx of bridal parties from abroad. At the Willard last evening the following were registered: F. R. Boyd and wife, Princeton, Ky.; A. W. Macklin and wife, Frankfort, with W. C. Bedford and Miss Anna Macklin, escort; Samuel Jones and wife, Carterwille, Ga. W. Samuel Jones and wife, Cartersville, Ga.; W. N. Mathews and wife, Columbas, Ind. Still another matrimonial suit were at the Louisville Hotel: S. P. Worsham and wife, Stanford, Ky., with Misses Sophia B. Craig and Lella Lella beighternick.

Portland at Plav.

A pleasant little affair came off on Portland avenue Monday night. The lads and lassies of Portland were assembled in full force, and the hours passed gloriously to the sound of merry music and prancing feet, and voices that bespoke the joyful hearts that beat within.

Personal.

Ex-Governor Beriah Magoffin, of Harrodsburg, and Judge Wm. Alexander, of Brandenburg, we reat the Louisville Hotel yesterday, General Albert Pike, Sovereign Grand Commander of the Masonic Order, is atill in the city. He has been the worthy recipient of much attention at the hands of the fraternity. CHARTER CONVENTION.

The Charter Convention met last evening. The ity Hall question was again reconsidered, and he discussion occupied the greater part of the vening. The official proceedings will be found a mother column. It meets again this evening. CITY FEATURES.
